

ICA Membership Benefits Grid as updated and approved at the 15-16 May 2024 ICA Executive Board meeting

The ICA Membership Benefits Grid is a reference document developed and updated by the ICA Secretariat and validated by the Executive Board. The Membership benefits package is regularly updated depending on the strategic orientations of the organisation and will be added as an appendix to the Membership scale of dues presented at the governance meetings.

The following grid lists the membership benefits for each category of member.

An institutional member (category A, B or C) can be:

- In good standing: dues of the year paid
- In good standing with a 9-month grace period (1 January – 30 September)
- In arrears (1 October of the current year to 31 December of the following year)
- Lapsed

An individual member (category D) can be:

- In good standing
- In good standing with a 3-month grace period (1 January – 30 March)
- Lapsed

On 1 January, institutional members (categories A, B and C) are given a grace period of nine (9) months to renew their membership. During this time, they are considered as being in good standing with grace period. If bureaucratic procedures prevent an institutional member from paying within this period, a request explaining the situation should be sent to the Secretariat so that the Elected Officers may consider the possibility of extending this grace period.

On 1 January, individual members (Category D) are given a grace period of three (3) months to renew their membership. During this time, they are considered as in good standing with grace period.

Definition of a rights holder: They can answer call for proposals and projects for his/her institution and participate in the governance of ICA bodies, in this capacity, he/she is entitled to a member profile on the ICA website. The suspension of their institution will result in the suspension of their profile.

Definition of a learner: An individual from the institution registered as ICA member, who gets a member preferential rate for ICA events and/or online courses.

ⁱ ICA members can take part in the activities of different sections and branches as appropriate but they must be affiliated to a section to have certain privileges such as holding office in that section (for example as a bureau member) or voting at an annual general meeting of that section.
